NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, O.—Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown was highly honored several days ago when a group of distinguished Rotarians met in his office in the State House and posed for a group photograph with the genial state official signing the charter for the newly organized Rotary club of Blaine, Ohio.

The time limit for the introduction of bills in the Eighty-eighth General Assembly expired Monday night and the last minute rush witnessed scores of new measures finding their way into the legislative hopper, making a total of a little over 600. The lawmakers will now be busy for several weeks in discussing same with final recommendations by the various committees. There is however no possibility of adjournment of the states men before the latter part of April or early in May.

Representative H. E. C. Rowe of Holmes county, has introduced a bill to protect farmers against trespassing by the city miradors. The bill would require all hunters to secure a license in the county in which they reside and before they could go into another county to hunt they would have to have their license validated at a cost of fifty cents. The bill would also require the chief of the fish and game division to appropriate each year the number of permanent game wardens to the various counties in proportion to the number of licenses issued, plus validations made. This would place the game wardens in the counties where the hunting is to be done, instead of in the city counties as at the present time.

The joint legislative committee on conditions in the state office buildings, formerly the Hartman Hotel, corner of Main and Fourth streets, has recommended the removal of the Workmen's Compensation Division in the department of Industrial Relations, to the old building in Fourth street between Broad and Gay streets. No other offices in the Hartman Hotel building will be moved as a new state office building will undoubtedly be agreed upon by both branches of the General Assembly.

The temperance committee of the House has recommended the passage of the Ross bill, proscribing severe penalty for selling liquor to minors. It makes proposed penalties of $1,000 to $5,000 fine and imprisonment of from one to five years. From now on bills will be brought out of committee at rather a rapid rate and will be up for passage. Among new measures introduced are amendment to Ohio automobile laws abolishing bills of sale, replacing them with certificates of title, to regulate barbeques and restaurants outside of corporate limits with regard to health conditions, to increase salaries of state officials, requiring all parties in a real estate deal to be bound by written contracts, to shorten fox hunting season one month, fining persons when not members of fraternal, military or labor organizations for wearing insignia of same, reapportionment of real estate only once in each six years, to provide for reduction in tax appraisals on real estate where values have declined to revise the state's pure seed laws, to repeal laws licensing concessionaires at county and independent fairs and to license surveyors and civil engineers and to establish a state board of five members.

SCHOOL NEWS

Thursday morning in chapel we were astonished to see the living image of Abraham Lincoln. He was Judge Charles E. Bull of Reno, Nevada, star of "The Iron Horse" and "The Heart of Lincoln." He entertained us with a playlet depicting a part of the life of Lincoln. He was accompanied by Miss Louise Dorgan who portrayed Mary Todd Lincoln. It was both instructive and entertaining.

School will be dismissed Friday, Washington's birthday. We hope that a large percentage of the students will attend the Greene County Basketball tournament held at Xenia both Friday and Saturday.

Thursday morning at a called meeting of the high school Prof. Furst brought up the subject of establishing a chapter of the National Honor Society Membership which is based on scholarship in high schools. This is to a high school which Phi Beta Kappa is to a college. It is sponsored by the National Educational Association. We feel sure that the standards of our school will meet the necessary requirements and in all probability we shall soon have a chapter. In the future honor rolls will be published every six weeks.

Athletics
In the past two weeks our basketball team played two unofficial (but officially conducted) games, one with Pichin and one with Jamestown. These games were to condition the boys for the Tournament on Friday.

The Pichin game was a slow one in the first three quarters with Paul Edwards' boys generally having a slight lead. They retained their lead until the last quarter when Cedarville began to sink baskets more frequently. Bates and Abel made enough points then to put Cedarville out of danger. The score was 21-15.

The game with Jamestown was a runaway. The team, though somewhat ragged in play, had no trouble scoring and ended the contest with a 41-10 lead. Bates made 18 points.

Tuesday evening the girls played the Cedarville College girls and, in a hectic game, noted them out 26-25 when Veronica Black tossed a shot at gun time that put us ahead. The High School overcame a big lead to win the point. The girls at their present stage should make trouble for all.

College Is Endowed With Big Cemetery

TOPEKA, Kans.—To help Washburn College live after his death, A. B. Whiting, one of its trustees for half a century, bequeathed it a cemetery.

The idea providing the school an income from the sale of burial lots came to him in a dream years ago. The college has a 160-acre campus, and the proposed to other members of the Board of Trustees that the "south eighty," a prairie at the time, be set aside for the dead.

The board rejected his plan, so he carried it out alone by buying a tract several times as large and creating the Mount Hope Cemetery.

A substantial income from the sale of lots in Mount Hope is expected for at least 200 years. More than half of it, in accordance with Mr. Whiting's will, goes to Washburn College. The balance is shared equally by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

Mr. Whiting, a native of Vermont, was a pioneer Kansas farmer and miller. His homestead, staked out near Fort Riley in 1856, five years before Kansas was admitted to statehood, was the farthest western outpost of civilization in Kansas territory. He remained active in business until his death a few months ago at the age of 93.

THE FARMERS' REVOLUTION

A popular American verse of 1776:
Farmer at the plow,
Wife milking cow,
Daughter spinning yarn,
Son threshing in the barn.
All happy as a chameleon.
Farmer goes to see the show,
Daughter at the piano,
Madame gaily dressed in satin,
All the boys learning Latin,
With a mortgage on the farm.
A parody written in 1929:
Farmer sits upon his tractor,
Wife applying favorite motor,
Daughter at the radio dial,
Son in roadster burning miles
While waiting farm relief.

AUDITOR WEAD SHOWS COUNTY BONDED DEBT

Greene County's net bonded indebtedness at the close of 1928, including the general county fund, city and county schools, villages and townships, exclusive of Xenia City, stood at $1,432,774.88, according to a debt abstract prepared by County Auditor R. O. Wead.

The abstract covers the period of eighteen months preceding December 31, 1928 and summarizes the bonds redeemed and new issues made during this period.

The general county debt is $420,355.94, less $151,981.27, the balance held by the interest and sinking fund trustees in cash and investments, which, if applied to the gross debt, would leave a deficit of only $268,374.67. During the eighteen-month period the county redeemed $292,728.84 in bonds that became due, but new bond issues totalling $38,285.78, of which $91,189.59 was for county roads.

The interest and sinking fund trustees have a balance of $27,976.93 to apply on the present village gross debt of $118,242.84. The abstract shows villages redeemed $21,587.46 in bonds but new issues amounted to $59,168.

City schools have an outstanding debt of $570,000 while the interest and sinking fund has on hand $124.97 to apply against it. The debt was decreased $68,000 in bonds paid off as there were no new bond issues.

The outstanding debt of county schools stands at $483,242.08 with the interest and sinking fund having $7,783.87 on hand against it. New bond issues, amounting to $80,600, were less than bonds redeemed, which totalled $85,579.51.

Townships in the county have a net indebtedness of $4,000 with no money in the interest and sinking fund, which is a reduction of $3,000 during the last eighteen months. No new bond issues were floated in this period.

Summarizing the debts of the city and county schools, general county fund and villages and townships, the abstract discloses a total outstanding bonded indebtedness of $1,432,774.88, held by the sinking fund trustees, which leaves a net debt of $1,432,774.88.

In the lower bracket, Ballbrook and Ross Twp. will fight it out in the first round in the sixth game at 4 P. M. Friday. Yellow Springs and Spring Valley, in the same bracket, take the floor at 7:30 P. M. Friday in the eighth game. The survivors of these two games become eligible to clash in the semi-finals in the fourteenth game at 4:30 P. M. Saturday.

The semi-final winners in each bracket will meet in the championship finals for the county title in the sixteenth and last game of the tourney at 8:30 P. M. Saturday. Regardless of the outcome of the final game, both finalist teams will be eligible to represent Greene County in the Class B regional tourney at Springfield the following week-end.

An innovation in the form of foul shooting contests for both boys' and girls' teams is planned as a feature of the tourney this year. Two players representing each team will participate. This feature will precede each game of the tournament until every team has had its chance.

A NEW FUTURE LOOMS FOR THE COLLEGE

The announcement of the election of J. H. Dickason of Wooster as vice president of Cedarville College, with the added duties of Field Representative, is looked upon as an omen of a greater and better future for the institution.

Prof. Dickason has had a wide experience in college educational circles through his connection with Wooster University. He has a strong personality and is a fluent speaker on and off the platform. He has an intimate knowledge of the requirements of a school such as Cedarville has been long proud to call her own.

The new Vice President and Field Representative will be in position to bring many new students here. He has a personal contact with the wealthy men of the nation that are interested in the kind of an education possible in Cedarville College. We can confidently predict a more rapid growth of Cedarville College under the guiding hands of President W. R. McChesney and Vice President J. H. Dickason.

THIS BILL MERITS DEFEAT

Compulsory liability insurance for all auto drivers is proposed in a bill pending before the legislature. The bill contemplates a state fund, administered by a board of three members to be named by the secretary of state, all drivers to make annual payments to the fund.

This is a bit of experimental legislation that should not be studied briefly or passed in a hurry. It is an excursion into new territory. It cannot be studied thoroughly this session and no effort to pass it should be made. There are serious and pitiful victims of auto accidents that have caused many to wish there might be a bill of that nature fashioned, but in Massachusetts, the only state that has tried it, the plan was not successful and today is an admitted failure in its present form.

No form of insurance should be based on sentiment, and no surge of pity in the human heart is justification for a costly experiment in that field. Insurance is a highly organized, scientific line of business that calls for the best ability in the country when a new field is being pioneered. Insurance is good only when it rests on a scientific actuarial basis. Insurance thus far has been written on selected risks. It is unsafe to assume records on selected risks can be duplicated when every applicant must be taken. It is the reckless and careless risks that make the trouble and cause the cost to mount higher.

The task of writing a workable measure of that sort may appear easy to those who view the field without estimating the factors of importance that enter into the venture. It is a task that has defeated the best insurance minds thus far. It is no task for a novice in the insurance field. Every auto in service should be covered, but the means for securing that desired result has not yet been found. After the lamentable failure in Massachusetts the lawmakers of Ohio should beware of daring the known and unknown dangers in that field. Let that bill die. —Ohio State Journal.

WILL THE PROMISES BE MADE GOOD?

During the past campaign Republican state leaders promised a business administration if state affairs were entrusted to that political party. The citizens took the party at its promise and turned over the two branches of the legislature with every state office to the Republican party.

If we survey the situation in the legislature correctly there is danger that this promise will not be fulfilled to the satisfaction of Ohioans. Already there are bills introduced that will increase the tax burden $30,000,000 annually in this state. The new increase of taxes is to be levied in various forms, none of which the consumer can escape. It is not expected that all these bills will be passed at this session but no doubt enough of them will be made into laws to increase present taxes considerably.

The average member of the legislature seems to have a mania for introducing new bills to create more laws, more taxes or more of something to harass the citizenship. It is an unusual thing that any member can get up courage enough to offer a repealer to do away with much of our foolish legislation we have on the statute books; that courts, attorneys or wise men know what it is about.

This situation will continue to exist until the people realize the importance of being closer to legislative members. Negligence to let you representative or senator know how you stand on legislation means that you must continue to meet the constant increase in state government which is sustained by direct or indirect taxes, all of which comes out of the pockets of the consumers.

CHURCH MERGERS AND OTHER MERGERS

This is the day of mergers not only in churches but in all lines of business. Every day finds the merging of different lines of business and frequently newspapers in the same town or city are merged to reduce overhead expenses.

For several weeks there has been much discussion of mergers among the different religious denominations and in fact two or three Ohio branches have already united in one body.

We can see nothing wrong with this movement. We are facing a new economic alignment in this country and may face more and greater mergers than we have yet experienced. The day of long profits as reaped during the war period has passed and manufacturers must increase production with a reduced overhead to realize a profit.

A general movement for church merger is something new and yet it has been talked of for some years back. Today we see prominent denominational leaders looking on the situation in a different light. The merger of several of the leading denominations is not far away unless unforeseen developments come to the service.

There was the merger of different countries in the winning of the late war. These allies found it necessary to stand together in France to gain the victory. Why cannot it be said that religious denominations have merged to fight a more important fight against the forces of evil? There would be better understanding and fewer difficulties and more financial resources to command under one strong leadership.

THE PUBLIC HAS THE LAST SAY

There has been introduced in the legislature a bill that provides a special tax on what is known as chain stores doing business in Ohio. As we understand it this bill would also prohibit all businessmen from cutting prices. Such a measure was probably introduced in the hope of thwarting the growth of chain stores, upholding prices, all in the interest of the smaller merchant.

Such a movement if enacted into law evidently would prove a "two edged sword" that might cut both ways. While the small merchants of the state might favor such a law what would be the attitude of the public? Can the small merchants expect a general approval from the buying public when effort is to be made to make price cutting an illegal act?

From another angle can such a law be made constitutional that a man cannot dispose of his own merchandise or property at a price satisfactory to himself? As to the special tax the chain stores would probably pay it and pass it on to the consumer but the public cannot be fooled and there might be a well grounded public sentiment that would be held against the small merchant in favor of companies owning chain stores.

The chain store companies are large enough, have executives with a vision of the future and financial resources to meet the conditions that would arise following enforcement of such a law in this state. The small merchant has a new problem to meet and it must be met in his own way. The public may have a word of sympathy but sentiment has little place in our economic structure today when it comes to paying higher prices for goods of equal quality because some one else might not be able to meet the lower prices.

Lesson for February 24

CHRISTIAN GROWTH

LESSON TEXT—John 1:10-17; Matt. 10:1-15; John 1:18-19.

GOLDEN TEXT—But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Growing Like Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Growing Like Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Growing Up—To What?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Conditions of Christian Growth.

I. Following Jesus (John 1:10).

As a result of the testimony of John the Baptist, that Jesus was the Lamb of God (v. 30), Andrew followed Jesus.

The proof of this is really believed in that he followed Christ. This is the first essential in the Christian life.

II. Leading Others to Christ (v. 41).

As soon as Andrew had found and become acquainted with Christ, he brought his brother Peter to Christ.

Christians grow and only be truly realized in the giving of oneself to the winning of souls. The one who has received the gospel, the good news, cannot help but proclaim it.

III. Confessing Jesus as the Messiah, the Son of God (Matt. 16:16-18).

The disciples had been with the Lord for several years. They had heard His wonderful words and seen His mighty works. Various opinions were extant about Him. It was now necessary for them to have a definite conception of Him. Examination came after the period of school life. As the Master teacher, Jesus knew what it meant to the disciples to have a right conception of Himself. He knew the trying ordeal through which they would be called upon to pass as the time of his crucifixion drew near. Only as they perceived His deity would they be strong in the hour of trial. In answer to Jesus' pointed, personal question, Peter confessed to the absolute deity and Messiahship of Jesus. This conception of Christ is essential to salvation (John 20:31).

No one lacking it will ever be in the kingdom of the living. Besides, the denial of His deity is the supreme lie (1 John 2:22).

1. What Peter confessed (v. 16).

"Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." It therefore involved His Messiahship and deity. This is the burning question of today. Those who have the right conception of Christ's person and mission have no trouble in the realm of science, philosophy or ethics.

2. Christ's commendation (v. 17).

He pronounced him blessed. The evidence that Peter was blessed was that he was in spiritual touch with the heavenly Father. His conception of Christ was not revealed by flesh and blood.

3. Peter's blessing (v. 18).

Christ declared that he should become a foundation stone in His church. Christ is the chief cornerstone on which the church is built. Christ's person and Messiahship were confessed by Peter, and on this rock is laid the foundation of apostles and prophets (Eph. 2:20). All believers are living stones of this house (1 Peter 2:5).

IV. Peter's Restoration (John 21:15-19).

Peter grievously sinned in denying the Lord, but he made confession, shedding bitter tears over his sin and folly. The Lord tenderly dealt with

His erring disciple and restored him. In his restoration, Jesus brought to Peter's mind the essential qualification for his ministry. Love is the pre-eminent gift for Christian service. To impress upon his mind this fact He three times asked the question, "Lovest thou me?" He not only asked the question three times to show the supreme qualification for service to Him but to show that there are three classes of persons demanding His service and that these classes need special care as well as food adapted to their state.

1. Those beginning the Christian life, babes in Christ, "Feed my lambs." The word "feed" means more than instruction. It applies to the surroundings, influences and examples.

2. The mature ones, "Feed my sheep."

This seems to mean "shepherd my sheep." The mature class of believers not only need food, but discipline. They need correction and guidance.

3. The aged Christians, "Feed My Sheep."

The word "feed" here is much the same as in the first case. This is a service greatly needed today. In many places the old people are greatly neglected. All provision is made for the young people. Love is the supreme need in service to the old folk.

When in need of pump repairs or new pump call Marion Hughes.
